Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-8, drawn to a method for optically isolating a radio frequency component of a transceiver, classified in class 398, subclass 135.
 - II. Claims 9-16, drawn to a wireless device, classified in class 398, subclass 118.
 - III. Claims 17-25, drawn to a system comprises a controller, classified in class 398, subclass 94.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are unrelated because invention I is related to a method for optically isolating a radio frequency component of a transceiver. Invention II related to an wireless device comprises a radio frequency component, a lower frequency component to operate at a frequency lower than radio frequency and an optical link to link said components.

Inventions I and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are unrelated because invention I is related to a method for optically isolating a radio frequency component of a transceiver.

Invention III related to a system comprises a controller.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II or group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
